Subject: Prophecy Club News Update Supporters

Dear Prophecy Club Update Supporters,

It is hard enough to take care of problems facing The Prophecy Club. We have plenty to do and I am not looking for something else to burden my time, nor am I looking for a fight. The fight I face, fighting the devil every day, is quite enough.

Sometime back, I received a call from Michael Rood telling me that his right hand man was taking money from his ministry and, in fact, had stolen his ministry because he did not like some things Michael had done.

I sent Michael a letter stating a simple point of order. If a helper in a ministry does not like what the head of the ministry does, the helper should leave but not try to destroy the ministry. Which, of course, is true.

After a lengthy investigation into the matter in Michael Rood's ministry by an impartial group of other ministries, some inaccuracies have come to light, which I am not going to comment on. As I said, I would prefer to mind my own business and take care of my own problems. I don't need any more trouble than what the devil already throws my way. However, I did send out an email blast to our update list and did allow Michael to post a letter from me outlining this point of order to his website. Therefore, now to the degree that I have involved myself, I must now, regretfully, address it. I have asked Michel to remove my letter from his website.

My intention is not to say anything bad about either side. I have always tried to stick to the old saying, "When you throw mud, whether you hit the mark, or miss the mark, your hands still get dirty." I am not going to throw mud in either direction. I am simply going to point you to the findings of the independent committee, discourage you from going there, and reading one thing. I am going to ask you as well, not to get involved in the airing of any dirty laundry that you don't have a reason to be involved. In my opinion, the only reason for you to get involved would be if you plan on supporting the ministry of Michael Rood in the future; then you may want to click on the link below and read until the thing makes you sick. As for me, I am going to stay out of it and I recommend you do the same.

Let me say that again: I strongly recommend you NOT go to the link below. Do not trouble yourself with negative remarks about another member of the body of Christ. No good can come from it. You see, well-intentioned people sometimes make mistakes, and we all realize that. Don't be happy to see bad things come to any ministry or individual naming the name of Jesus. We should all be sad to see the body of Christ in trouble. We should pray for their repentance and restoration. Jesus needs soldiers in his army and everyone can see the battle for righteousness is losing right now. I am sorry I sent a letter to Michael or an email blast on the subject. I am sorry I got involved and I recommend you avoid it.

While we are on the subject, I want you to know The Prophecy Club does things right. How can we serve a Holy God with tools of the devil? How can we do the work of righteousness with ways of the flesh? We can't!

Sorry to have involved you in this in any way.

Have a Happy holiday,

Stan Johnson
